Foreword

THE dominant thought, in the preparation of this catalog, has been your convenience; for it is an ambassador who will be with you constantly, and only as it serves you conveniently, quickly and permanently, does it represent us as we wish.

The last few years have seen remarkable advances in the art of Metal Working, Heat Treating, and Finishing. We have retained specialists in these lines, who have kept us in touch with modern development; our steels are constantly watched and every process is carefully inspected and checked.

As manufacturers, we have found higher ideals, our factories have been rebuilt, electrified and re-equipped, in accordance with them, and our Brands are more firmly established than before in the confidence of the trade, by reason of the increased strength and beautiful finish of True Temper Tools.

Since our last book was published, your continued friendship has given us a generous growth which has served to emphasize for us the ideals then expressed—that with increasing growth, we accept an increasing responsibility for sincerity, kindness and fairness. Should we fail in these, we fail altogether—if we attain them, we shall hope for the same pleasant relations with you that the past has given us.

"True Temper Tools are like friends who understand—they wear best."

“True Temper”

The Mark of Our Approval and Responsibility

THE brands that have for years stood for highest quality in forks, hoes and rakes are these: Ashtabula, Batcheller, Bolles, Ely, Fort Madison, Geneva, Harriman, Jackson, Otsego, Philadelphia and Southern. Each one not only represents a high quality tool, but also carries with it a reputation and a constant demand from consumers that form a very valuable asset of the dealers' business and our own.

To submerge or overshadow these trade-mark brands would be the height of business folly on our part.

To keep the trade-marks, simply for their reputation value, and to try to belittle or destroy the distinct individuality of each product, would also be a bad blunder. Their individuality is a matter of personality, not of organization or system. We could not destroy it if we would. The human or personal equation cannot be eliminated from any manufactured article that needs close and careful supervision in its making.

The object and effect of our general trade-mark, “True Temper,” is neither to submerge nor destroy the old established brands. It is simply the mark by which we show our approval of the quality and our responsibility for results.

Second Quality

(Regular Steel Goods)

Tied regularly in bundles of one dozen each. Tines Not Burlapped

All of our Second Quality goods, while good serviceable tools, are inferior to our First Quality goods in size, weight, quality of finish of the metal parts, and in the grade and finish of the handles.

None of them are labeled with our regular factory brands, or the names of our works; consequently, we cannot entertain claims for broken or defective tools of this grade.

Regular Four-Tine Spading Forks

Second Quality

(Regular Steel Goods)

Tied regularly in bundles of one-half dozen each. Tines Not Burlapped

All of our Second Quality goods, while good serviceable tools, are inferior to our First Quality goods, in size, weight, quality of finish of the metal parts, and in the grade and finish of the handles.

None of them are labeled with our regular factory brands, or the names of our works; consequently, we cannot entertain claims for broken or defective tools of this grade.

English Digging Fork

(Special Steel Goods)

The sharp tines will enter soil more easily than a Spade or Spading Fork and break it up better. Excellent for ditching in stiff soils. Fork, Shank and Straps are one solid piece of steel, making it the strongest fork we know.

No.	Per Dozen		Code
ED4	$18.00	Four Square Tines, 12 in. long, 7½ in. spread, 29-in. Wood D Handle. Tines polished front and back. Finished in Blue Lacquer and Gold	- - - - - Elam

Regular Field and Garden Hoes

Second Quality

(Regular Steel Goods)

Tied regularly in bundles of one dozen each. Blades Not Burlapped

All of our Second Quality goods, while good, serviceable tools, are inferior to our First Quality goods in weight, quality of finish of the metal parts, and in the grade and finish of the Handles.

None of them are labeled with our regular factory brands, or the names of our works; consequently, we cannot entertain claims for broken or defective tools of this grade.

These Hoes are made only in Socket pattern, and have XXX Double Spring Handles. The blades are made of two kinds of steel, rolled very thin, one being of mild steel, the other of superior edge steel, thus always insuring a sharp cutting edge. These are the very finest Hoes that we can make and they will please the most fastidious. They are also economical Hoes to buy for day laborers, because of the greater quantity of work that a sharp Hoe will enable them to perform.

The "Self Sharpening," "Ivanhoe," "Crucible," "Columbian" and "Warren" Hoes, are the best grade of Field and Garden Hoes which we produce. The blades are highly polished, the handles specially selected and finished. Special care is given to make these the leaders in quality among all hoes.

Riveted Sheet Steel Hoes

(Special Steel Goods)

Tied regularly in bundles of one dozen each. Blades Not Burlapped

Riveted Sheet Steel Hoes are the cheapest known goods of their kind. They are made cheaply and sell cheaply. They are not in any way guaranteed as to quality, although our Riveted Hoes are equal to any other Riveted Hoes on the market, and superior to some.

Forged Steel Weeding Hoes

WE wish to call your special attention to our new line of Forged Steel Weeding Hoes, which are a step in advance of anything heretofore offered of their kind.

In the making of our Nos. 1PF, 2PF, 4P and 6P, the shapes have been entirely redesigned, each blade is carefully re-rolled to a definite taper, tempered and polished; whereas, until now, the one and two-prong weeders have been sheet steel stampings with malleable shanks.

Nos. 1PF and 2PF have double steel, one-piece shanks; while in Nos. 4P and 6P, shank, blade and teeth are all one piece.

These two latter patterns are really well-hung hoes, combined with rakes, at the price of a single hoe.

Light and strong. Being forged from one solid piece of Tool Steel, its weight is far less than that of other cultivators and there are no bolted parts to work loose. Points work from one to two inches beneath the soil surface.

For keeping in moisture and working up close to growing plants, this cultivator is very efficient.

We offer above Blackland Hoes to meet a demand for a Hoe of this kind at a lower price than our Standard True Temper Quality.

Blades are not as well polished, handles not quite as well selected as in our Standard Quality Hoes. They are, however, Serviceable Hoes and will give satisfaction to a trade not over-critical.

Bent Manure, Barley, Grain and Header Fork Handles

Fitted with Strap Ferrules and Caps

Bored—Ready to Drive On

These Handles are designed to repair all our brands of Steel Goods, and are correctly fitted and smoothly finished, with painted ferrules. XX and X Handles are waxed, and each handle encased in a paper tube.

Manure, Barley, Grain and Header Fork Handles have a deeper bend and are heavier than Hay Fork Handles.

True Temper Revolving Tool Rack

(Special Steel Goods)

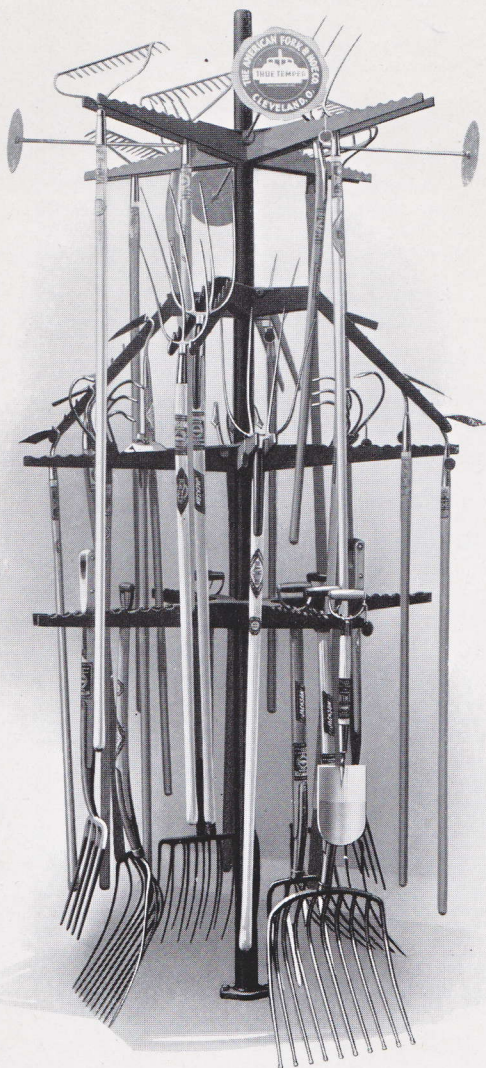

Description

The center column is a 2-inch steel tube with pivot plate at the bottom, and with ceiling plate and telescoping joint to allow for different height ceilings.

The four iron spiders lock on the tube, turning with it, and these spiders have interchangeable arms, making the rack flexible for forks, rakes, hoes and shovels.

Occupies a floor space only 4½ feet in diameter and holds 12 to 13 dozen steel goods.

This rack takes only a few minutes to set up—can be moved easily, lasts a lifetime, and displays steel goods cleanly and handsomely. Height of store ceiling should accompany each order.
